	The Salient points of difference between the European Service Leave Rules and the Indian Service Rules are noted below —
	European Service —
1)	Maximum period of furlough admissible is 6 years
2)	Maximum furlo' allowance is 800 £ in England & 8000 Rs in India
3)	Furlough can be taken at intervals of 3 years
	Indian Service
1)	Max^m furlo' only 2 years (counting leave on med^l certificate)
2)	only 600 £ in England & 6000 Rs in India.
3)	only at intervals of 8 years.

It will be thus seen that the European Service Rules are more favourable to the officer concerned and very much more costly to Government than the Indian Service Rules.

3 In British India, to make the service more attractive to Europeans or rather to lessen the disadvantages incidental to ~~the~~ service ~~in~~ in a distant land and under a trying climate, the European Service Rules were framed to be applied mostly to high European officers and intended primarily to give them facilities to to Europe comparatively frequently, ~~to~~ to recruit their health A secondary consideration was to also to give them an opportunity to brush up their knowledge But a representations from individual officers to be brought ~~on~~ under the operation of these rules (when the C S R does not provide for it) ~~are to be granted~~ granted only in cases where Strong reasons exist, each case being reported to the Secretary of State with a statement of the reasons (Cl 61 of Madras Supplement to the C S R)

4 The Conditions in our State are very different and the Service being wholly manned by local officers there is no ground for such liberal rules (as Mr Bush has remarked in his Decennial Review) Except in the case of officers recruited direct from England for special reasons, to attract whom it was necessary to give an indefinite promise of these liberal leave rules, it has been the practice here, I think, to refuse the extension of these leave rules to all who are not entitled to it under the terms of a contract.

5 Mr Reddy's case ~~request~~ request has to be refused further reasons To allow him the benefit of these rules would result in allowing him to travel frequently to Europe at Govt Expense while the work in the Educational Department would suffer by the ~~reason~~ to frequent acting arrangements which would be necessitated thereby

6 It would be sufficient to pay a visit to Europe once in eight or ten years to keep in touch with the advance of knowledge ~~there~~ and for this purpose the ordinary leave rules would suffice To allow a longer period for the purpose would leave less time for ~~those~~ our Educational ~~department~~ to be benefited by the ~~increase in knowledge~~ advancement in knowledge

Were this sanctioned, there is also the danger of other officers applying for the same consideration being shown to them and there is no knowing where we can stop -

The application is for a concession which only 5 European officers in the service gets State all recruited in Europe for special qualifications enjoy. A very large number of officers superior in rank pay &c. to Mr Reddy with many Europeans among them are under the ordinary rules & do not enjoy the benefits of the special rules. Every case of admission to the more favourable rules means extra cost. The reasons given by M Reddy apply with equal or greater force to many other officers European & Indian. Letter dated the 31st March 1912 from Mr C R Reddy Professor of English, Maharaja's College, Mysore to the Inspector General of Education in Mysore

I request you to be so kind as to recommend to Government my inclusion in the list of officers admitted to the benefit of the rules under Long Leave -See Chapter XIV and Appendix 6 of the M S R - which I most particularly desire both on grounds of health and intellectual improvement If the privilege I seek is extended to me, I intend to put it to good use, as opportunity permits, by occasional travels in foreign lands and sojourns at some of the more distinguished Universities of the world It would conduce greatly to some arrangements that are in contemplation by me, if an early decision is vouchsafed With best regards,

Yours very sincerely,
(Sd) C R Reddy,

"C C P Y"

Assistant to the Inspector General of Education,
